Dear Sirs

Unispace Global Limited

We are instructed on behalf of Unispace Global Limited ["Unispace"]. We write in relation to statements and/or comments made by you and published on Twitter ["the Publications"]. This letter is sent pursuant to the Pre-Action Protocol for Defamation of the Civil Procedure Rules.

The Publications

On 7 July 2013, you tweeted the following:

"@UnispaceGlobal is a Hales owned company so buyers beware of propping up an EVIL CULT #PBCC".

@UnispaceGlobal is our client's Twitter name. The reference to "Hales", we assume, is to Bruce D Hales, who you also tweeted about on 7 July as being the "leader of the Exclusive Brethren" and a "cult leader". Indeed, various of your tweets have related to the "Brethren" and "#PBCC", which we assume is a reference to the Plymouth Brethren.

The Publications taken together are, without doubt, grossly defamatory of Unispace and those that work for it and are – as you must have, or should have, known at the time the Publications appeared – utterly false. Further, it is immensely damaging to Unispace to suggest that it is connected to an "evil cult" which insinuates that its directors, shareholders and staff cannot be trusted.

Your Twitter account is open to the general public. We note that you currently have 80 followers on Twitter and therefore it is a likely that a substantial number of people would have seen the Publications and are still able to see the Publications.
